

Spiritual Alignment

April 27

Someone mentioned that everything he tried to do either didn't work, came out wrong, or made an already bad situation worse. Friends around him laughed as they had experienced similar situations.

Those of us on a spiritual journey know what it means to "be out of spiritual alignment." Our EGO is Easing God Out. Our literature refers to this as self-will run riot. We tried, but could not find serenity by ourselves.

Our Higher Power waits for us to get out of the driver's seat. As we pray for divine intervention, we trust it will be received.

The alignment is what we're after. The result that comes from accepting the alignment is the business of our Higher Power.

How do we know when we are aligned with our Higher Power? As we stand in the doorway of His perfect timing, we trust an orchestrated process that unfolds in a time known only to the Universe.

Faith and attunement say, "If it were supposed to be different, it would be," regardless of the outcome, or the force we wield to change it.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

When the student is ready, the teacher appears. My God opens minds and hearts of those ready to experience His perfect timing.

"Whatever I 'align' myself with are the very things that will create a 'line' into my future."—Craig D. Lounsbrough
